Tag Day, May 20th

Tag Day, which was held on the above date, was very successful from a financial point of view, and the 192nd Battalion, C.E.F., is in a fair way of raising a substantial fund. Much praise is due the ladies who devoted so much time and energy to make the day a success.

The townspeople were very generous, and the amounts received are as follows: Hillcrest $98.35, Blairmore $46.00, Frank $37.75.

Included in the above amounts are several special donations given by the following gentlemen, Messrs. Barnett & Crickshanks, Dr. Allan Ross and Mr. H. G. Drinnan, Hillcrest; Dr. MacKenzie, Mc. W. P. Williams and Messrs. Burruet & Crickshanks, Bellevue.

The officers and men of the 192nd Overseas Battalion, C.E.F., must appreciate the liberality of the respective town-peoples, and will doubtless realize that the community has the welfare of the battalion at heart.

Sing Me To Sleep

(By Harry Lyons in the Westville Free Lance.)

Sing me to sleep where bulletts fall,
Let me forget the world and all.

Damp is my dugout, cold is my feet
Nothing but bully beef and biscuits to eat.

Sing me to sleep where bombs explode,
And shrapnel shells are a la mode.

Over the sandbags, helmets you find

Corsets in iron of you, corpses behind.

Sing me to sleep in some old shed,

The rats are running around my head,

Stretched out upon my waterproof

Dodging the raindrops through the roof,

Sing me to sleep, where camp fire g'ow,

Full of French bread and "caf'e-lam."

Dreaming of home and night in the sun,

Sombody's overseas boots on my chest,

Far from the starlight I'd love to be

Lights of old Canada I'd rather see,

Think of me croaching where the worms creep.

Waiting for someone to put me to sleep.

The immense Ford cash purchasing power has made it possible to overcome in many ways the serious obstacles met with by other car makers because of the scarcity and advance in prices of raw materials.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING R. REGULATIONS

COAL mining rights of the Dominion in Yukon Territories, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Northwest Territories and the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years, subject to payment of a rental of $100 per acre per annum, and a royalty of $10 per acre per annum, plus an additional $10 per acre per annum, if the lessee shall have leased to one applicant for lease, in person, the largest number of sections of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by section and legal description, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $100, which will be retained by the company if the application is accepted, but not otherwise.

A copy of the lease will be given to the lessee, and the output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the amount of coal produced, the value of the coal and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining is discontinued, the lessee must give notice to the agent, and the agent will require a statement of the amount of coal produced and the value of the coal produced.

The agent will require a statement of the amount of coal produced and the value of the coal produced.

—New York Outlook.

Shortage of Labor
Is Greatly Feared

In Alberta coal circles there is considerable apprehension of the question whether or not there will be a serious shortage of labor in the mines next fall and winter. Two regiments are now recruiting in the Crows Nest region and with the miners already depleted by enlistment, it is expected there will be a considerable lack of men.

Naismith, manager of the natural resources department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and who has charge of all the company's mines, is one who is apprehensive regarding the outlook.

It would appear that summer storage is about the only remedy that can be suggested, but it is not likely that this will be taken up seriously until people become convinced that next winter is going to be hard one.

BOSTONIANS HERE JUNE 8

Capt. Beebe, manager of the opera house, is gratified to announce that the Famous Bostonians Opera Company which has delighted our theatres for the past four years, will again return to Blairmore for one night only, Thursday, June 8, in a rollicking musical play of Auld Erin, "Tipperary Mary."

This internationally famous company needs no introduction here. For years, this unique all-girl organization has returned with the very best of musical successes and has never failed to please. It is indeed a treat to know that this company of local favorites is to again be here on Thursday, June 8, and to anticipate the former favorite among whom will be the Misses Thom Hellen, Patsy Henry, Nell (Babe) Mason, Dixie White, Ira Mitchell, Majel Gardner, Billie O'Neill, Blanche Ogden, Lola Fox, Linda Kelly, Joy Johnson, Hilda Johnson and several talented young ladies who are sure to present clean comedy, the latest dances and the newest musical successes of today.

Beef Cattle and Economy

"Big Falling Off in Beef Cattle?" is a significant heading on page 108 of The Agricultural War Book for 1916. On page 91 there is this paragraph of equal significance:

"It is in the interest of the Empire that everything possible should be done to foster the Canadian live stock industry. In Canada, the number of cattle is about 6,000,000, besides 2,000,000 sheep—a total which, having regard to the population of the Dominion, does not at present leave a very large margin for export. With the probability of preferential trade in food within the Empire there are great possibilities in the expansion of Canadian live stock production."

There was a small school which being closed up, was made a serious affliction to an orphan asylum for boys and girls pointed to the children arranged in full sight of the congregation, and saying "They're there," left the pulpit.

The quotation of the two foregoing paragraphs should in like manner almost be sufficient to indicate to Canadians the opportunity and duty lie before them. There is, however, so much matter of similar import, and pointing in the same direction, in the book, that it is well worth while to look further into it. As to the falling off, the statistics show that the decrease of beef cattle during the years extending from 1910 to 1914, totalled 992,662, or 7,388 fewer cattle per annum, or 1.8 percent.

Meanwhile the population increased and people went on eating as much beef as ever.

The decline in numbers of cattle by provinces was: Nova Scotia 31, 920; New Brunswick 11,133; Ontario 638,919; Manitoba 62,099; Alberta 293,905, and British Columbia 6,139.

Against these decreases there has been an increase of 25,081 in Quebec, of 43,272 in Saskatchewan and of 3,400 in Prince Edward Island. It will be noticed that the decline was in those provinces nearest to the United States and where packers are most in evidence.

Two morals are to be gathered from the foregoing figures, considered in conjunction with existing conditions. One is that we must eat less beef, and the other, that we must eat less beef, and that it is time to do something about it.

Overseas exporters of live stock or live stock products of any importance. To accomplish this the farmers will need to pay additional attention to their breeding cows and to prize them to a greater extent than official returns would imply they have been doing. In connection with the other, it will be necessary for the people to cultivate and eat more field and garden produce, as well as to be more thrifty in their treatment of scraps and seemingly waste pieces, such as bones, skin and fat. They will need, so the War Book suggests, to produce their own; to buy as little as possible; to replace meat by milk, cheese, peas, beans and lentils; to use more vegetables and to eat more fruit.

Germany divined aright the deplorable political and industrial and military weaknesses of Russia, England and France. But Germany is heating her blind efficiency out against the rock of the spiritual reserve of Russia, England and France. And it is the spiritual reserve which is the final test of the fitness of a people to survive.

Presentation to Mrs. Allan

Prior to their leaving Vulcan for Coleman, the members of the Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church at Vulcan, through their president, Mrs. W. A. Howes, presented Mrs. (Rev.) D. K. Allan with a number of suitable gifts, including an ebony toilet set, as a slight recognition of the esteem in which she was held, and the splendid work she had accomplished during her stay in Vulcan. The members wished Mrs. Allan every possible success in the new field of labor to which she was going.

Railways In The Far North

Railways Press on to the Peace River Land

Mr. A. McDonald, Winnipeg, who made Toronto his headquarters during the progress of the western railway race, claims in which he took an early lead, says the peace the Toronto Globe, "To a representative of the Globe, he gave some interesting information regarding the remarkable progress recently of the great undeveloped region north of Edmonton. Mr. McDonald said: 'I am here to speak for Mr. J. D. McArthur, the president of the Edmonton, Dunvegan & British Columbia Railway, which was open for regular rail traffic January 1, 1915, from Alberta, 277 miles, by an order of the board of railway commissioners of a year ago.'

Mr. McArthur states that during the past year the line has been extended from Fowler to Spirit River, 80 miles, or 337 miles from Edmonton, and only a few miles remain to be completed to the Peace River. The branch has been built from Spirit River to Grande Prairie, fifty miles, or 407 miles from Edmonton (the Canadian Pacific) to the Peace River (the Canadian Railway) built from McMinn to Peace River Crossing, 50 miles, or 313 miles from Edmonton. Through railroads, grain and farm products, from all stations on the E. & B. C. Railway to Winnipeg, Fort William and stations on Ontario and Manitoba, have been taken from stations along Lesser Slave Lake to the principal cities of eastern Canada, including, etc. In endeavouring to finance the venture Mr. McArthur has put in the same freight rates mile for mile to Edmonton, which is the head of navigation, as apply to the Peace River country, as apply from stations in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to the consuming and distributing centres of the country on grain produced, live stock, dairy products, dressed meats, etc.

Mr. McArthur is president of the Great Waterways Railway Co., which has been constructed for 200 miles from Edmonton, the ultimate destination of which is Fort McMurray, about 150 miles north of Edmonton. At present the most important station on the Waterways line is the historic town of Lac la Biche, one of the oldest settlements in Alberta. A new bridge has been erected at Lac la Biche.

Notwithstanding the war there has been a very good movement of desirable passengers, visitors, picnickers in the Prairie Provinces, also from eastern Canada and the United States.

Alcohol is Rapidly Losing Favor as a Household Remedy

As prohibition approaches, a good many who still believe in the virtues of alcohol as a family medicine may be disturbed as to how they can have the medicine without it. To this end we address this letter, asking them to examine the matter fairly and candidly.

Alcohol as medicine is rapidly being given up in the large hospitals. This is shown by the collated reports of seven of the largest hospitals in England. In 1882 $7,473,000 was spent for alcohol, while in 1907 only $1,000,000 for milk; in 1902 only $13,184,000 was spent for alcohol and $43,810,000 for milk; with about the same number of patients. So far as we know, it is evident that some of the present day bed recoveries are due to the fact that after operations, the patients are no longer given alcohol. Most physicians of the day never prescribed it even in the smallest quantities. That being so, would it not be wise to take it out of the family medicine chest?

It is now beyond dispute that alcohol in all moderate quantities, less than one-half ounce per day, weakens the heart and eyesight. No one will argue that military men of being temperance and health. It follows that the weakens his power of recovery from disease. Dr. Welsh, of Johns Hopkins University, says: "Alcohol is a form of opium, and its use is a definite chance of recovery." If that be true of an adult, how much truer it is of the delicate tissue of a child. So far as you are concerned, we advise you to post a poster, warning parents to give their children "not one drop of beer, not one drop of wine, not one drop of whisky or any other form of alcohol."

German Brutality

This Hun Boasted of Having Bayoneted Women and Young Girls

HAVE YOU A BAD SORE?

If we remember Chase, Zambuk is by far the most widely used salve in Canada! Why has it become so popular? Because it heals sores, cuts, skin diseases, and does what is claimed for it. Why not let it heal you?

Remember that Zambuk is altogether different to the ordinary liniment. Most of those consist of animal fat, or oil, or extract of animal fat, or any mineral matter. It is absolutely herbal.

Remember that Zambuk is at the same time astringent, antiseptic, kills poison instantly, and all harmful germs. It is suitable alike for recent injuries and diseases, and for chronic ulcers, etc. Test now different salves—see how they seem to "heal." They're "healed" but have never got over it.

The "change" made by the appointment of Admiral von Tirpitz to the command of the fleet has apparently more apparent than real. The new secretary is known to be a disciple of Admiral von Tirpitz. He had been a year's yeoman of the guard to the Marine admiral as controller and was certainly imbued with the doctrines of the grand admiral who promoted him to the rank of captain. He had been for the navy about three years ago. He is the man best fitted, therefore, to continue the sea war with the energy displayed in the German sense of competition.

Tommies in Macedonia Find Prehistoric Bones

"The following is an extract from a letter written by an officer attached to the British Salvoes Expeditionary Force."

"You know, of course, that when troops are in a position they dig things well. I call them 'diggers.' In his surprise, the pick went through. That was how we found our first prehistoric grave. In it were some bones and teeth, very ancient indeed. Four or five others have been found since, and each one contains some beads, gold ornaments, etc."

"They say an ancient general arrived, and I was out with him. We wanted to fix a date for the grave. We found four iron spearheads in one, and he says the date is about 1200 B.C."

"The house was in an extraordinary state of repair; in fact, I am sure, the man suffered from rheumatism. His teeth are now very well. Not one in ten shows any sign of decay! In the same grave were smaller bones, which must have been those of a child. They are all in excellent condition."

"All kinds of value are going to the museums at Athens. Apparently a lot has been found in different parts."

"There is nothing known about Macedonia at the period represented, so, besides defending the country for us, we are going to find out its history for the Greeks."

Oil That Is Priced Everywhere

Dr. Thomas' Elixer Oil was put up on the market without any flourish over thirty years ago. It was put up to meet the wants of a small section, but it is as popular today as ever. No one knows it had a whole continent for a field, and it is now known and prized throughout this hemisphere. There is nothing equal to it.

We recently heard of an old Kentucky farmer which seems to be entering the oil business on a large scale. To a visitor he observed: "Them three Miss Perkins is three of pretty as gall as ever I see."

Twenty-three creameries in Saskatchewan last year made over $1,000,000 worth of butter. The ice cream, milk and buttermilk sold from the same fetched $379,000 more.

Failure Caused Fall of Tirpitz

All His Schemes for the Grand Fleet Went Awry

The New York Herald's naval correspondent writes:

"Grand Admiral von Tirpitz's fall came as a surprise to no one. He is afraid of any animal fat, or any mineral matter. It is absolutely herbal.

Remember that Zambuk is at the same time astringent, antiseptic, kills poison instantly, and all harmful germs. It is suitable alike for recent injuries and diseases, and for chronic ulcers, etc. Test now different salves—see how they seem to "heal." They're "healed" but have never got over it.

The "change" made by the appointment of Admiral von Capo di Monte to the command of the fleet has apparently more apparent than real. The new secretary is known to be a disciple of Admiral von Tirpitz. He had been a year's yeoman of the guard to the Marine admiral as controller and was certainly imbued with the doctrines of the grand admiral who promoted him to the rank of captain. He had been for the navy about three years ago. He is the man best fitted, therefore, to continue the sea war with the energy displayed in the German sense of competition.

In one sense the work of Admiral von Tirpitz, which has run into its twentieth year, was finished. Some months ago he had been given command of the fleet, but it has not been his duty to decide finally how it should be used in the war. Some persons have reported him to be a disciple of the German navy. In a measure he has been this because he has produced the material of the navy and the man himself. He has not been able to decide whether it would be better to use the fleet in action or to keep it in reserve. The German admiral von Tirpitz may have had his schemes all ready for the employment of the German fleet; it is probable that all or most of them have been carried out on an execution upon the initiative of his hands. The principle underlying German naval administration for the last twenty years has been that the fleet should be at the earliest possible moment and endeavor to catch the enemy of his guard. Those hoped for conditions have not been realized, and the carefully prepared schemes were rendered useless. It is more than doubtful if Admiral von Tirpitz has for his followers during the progress of hostilities.

With the submarine it was different. These weapons still more or less an experiment, when he began. It had never been tried in war. Thus the idea of a submarine fleet, which was the chief idea of war must necessarily have formulated in his own mind some idea for its use in action.

Admiral von Tirpitz may have had his schemes all ready for the employment of the German fleet; it is probable that all or most of them have been carried out on an execution upon the initiative of his hands. The principle underlying German naval administration for the last twenty years has been that the fleet should be at the earliest possible moment and endeavor to catch the enemy of his guard. Those hoped for conditions have not been realized, and the carefully prepared schemes were rendered useless. It is more than doubtful if Admiral von Tirpitz has for his followers during the progress of hostilities.

The German officers believed that they could scarcely remain longer than three days from their base, as they did at that time their crews would have mutinied, and would have discovered that the larger types could go right round England and remain out for as much as fourteen days at a time. This was Dr. Hamilton's opinion.

As every one knows, great developments have taken place since.

It is a strange thing that the submarine, which was considered as a menace to commerce, destroyed for which Admiral von Tirpitz was no doubt primarily responsible, has led to his retirement from the admiralty. His retirement from the admiralty, however, has not been due to political differences with his cabinet colleagues. He has had scores of projects, well matured, went away at the start when the British fleet was sent to the Dardanelles, and all ordinary trials had never failed to relieve and cure promptly.

Money in Flax On New Breaking

Prepares the Soil for Wheat and Provides Food Crop

J. H. Griswold, B. Agr. Director, Experimental Farm, Ottawa, says:

"For the new settler or the man with new breaking done before May 26 or 28, flax offers an opportunity for a good crop even though the naval secretary got the worst of the tussle last August over the concession which Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg offered to make to the American representations on the submarine war. That was undoubtedly a rude shock to the grand admiral's pride, but it is not possible with any other crop. Breaking about three inches deep, so as to allow all openings or depressions to be filled, will conserve any available moisture, as well as make a solid seed bed, will be such a preparation as gives a fair chance for a good crop of flax. The first seed is sown soon before the first of June. Sow seed at the rate of 30 to 40 lb per acre.

The second crop is sown after the first has grown, and will often be sown to wax the last few acres intended for wheat to flax instead. The returns from the two crops are likely to be practically equal this year.

"The flax should not be sown until the soil is in good condition for wheat as it would be summerfallow. Besides, it will provide a substantial revenue, for flaxseed has averaged around $2 a bushel for several months past."

Nature Needs Aid in Making New Health-Giving Blood

In the spring the system needs a tonic. To be healthy you must have new blood to replace the treasuries of old.

Take Hall's Catarrh Cure and you will feel the need of a tonic, and told the sergeant-major to hunt one up from among the sergeants.

The sergeant-major could not find a man who "pleaded guilty" to that occupation, but he eventually singled out a sober-looking private and took him before the officer.

"Are you a clerk?" demanded the captain.

"No, sir," replied the man.

"Do you know anything about figures?" asked the captain, sourly.

"I can do a bit," replied the man, modestly.

"A bit!" snarled the officer, "is this the best man you can find?" said he to the sergeant-major.

"Yes, sir," said the worthy.

"Well," growled the captain, "I suppose I'll have to put up with him."

"What were you in division?"

"Professor of mathematics at College, sir," was the reply.

It is interesting to record, says a special despatch from Simla, that the recent rains have been the quietest for the past five years on the northwest frontier of India.

Doubtless the strict neutrality maintained by the Amritsar Assembly has contributed to the result. India's efforts to make munificent war gifts and the manufacture of munitions is proceeding steadily, and the country has been made safe.

The development of existing factories is receiving the diligent attention of the government. The trade of India continues satisfactory.

Nervous DyspepsiaThe Modern Scourge and How to Meet it

The speed at which we live, the hustle now so necessary for success have unfortunately a very adverse effect on the nervous and digestive systems of Canadians. The baneful results, increased lately to an alarming degree, often lay the seeds of more deadly trouble, but it will be satisfactory to learn of the ever-increasing popularity in the Dominion, of the Great British Remedy, Dr. Cassell's Tablets.

Dr. Ramsay Colles, J.P. of the City of Dublin, a man of high eminence in the scientific world, says:—"I have great pleasure in expressing my satisfaction as to the curative effect of Dr. Cassell's Tablets in cases of nerve troubles. From several cases which have lately come under my notice I am able to form the opinion that Dr. Cassell's Tablets constitute a safe and reliable family remedy, and appear to be specially effective for nerve and bodily weakness."

Dr. Cassell's Tablets are Nutritive, Restorative, Alterative, and Anti-Spasmodic, and of great therapeutic value in all disorders of the nerve system. A site has been chosen near Bohemian town on which it is intended to erect a Methodist parish hall. The site of the present Knox Methodist church has been condemned by the government and we understand that the church building will be closed up shortly and be on the market for a purchaser, with exception of the windows, which will be used in the new building. The new building will have a floor space of 40x60 feet and will have a large stage which may be used in connection with concerts or entertainments, while a movable pulpit will stand in front.

Mr. Young, with the assistance of Mr. Amos, photographer, has secured a large number of local views, some depicting the style of habitat used by certain classes of foreigners in this country, others showing the magnificent scenery of the Crows' Nest Pass, and views in connection with the recent mine disaster at Hillcrest.

We understand that Mr. Young is preparing several series of such slides with which he expects to make a lecture tour in the interests of the proposed new church hall at Frank. Mr. Amos, photographer, has also offered a percentage of the sale price of a beautiful enlarged picture of Turtle Mountain and the slide towards the new church funds.

Inspector Hodgson, of the public schools department, visited Frank on Thursday, in the interest of the local school, and held a brief conference with the trustees. Mr. Hodgson informed the board of the department's intention to condemn the present school, which is well within the danger zone, and gave the board to understand that the government would not support the erection of a new school, but intimated that arrangements may be made to accommodate the Frank children at Blairstown. It was thought that arrangements might be made to house the primary department at Frank. In connection with the above, it is quite an unreasonable proposition to expect that the parents of Frank would allow their children to travel to Blairstown, even in the summer time. During the winter months it is very often impossible for even the senior school children to navigate their way through the pass to Blairstown and return, and very often in the summer it would not be advisable for small children to attempt the journey.
